The San Jose Mercury truthfully says: Governor McKinley struck the key-note of the coming campaign when he said at the Misigan Club banquet on Washington's birthday that the "only way for the Republican party to win is to be courageous." All the great measures it has fought for are steadfast to-day, and if the party remains true, the great tariff which it has enacted for the protection of American industries will stand unshaken also. The Democrats dare not attack it directly, but they will resort to strateghm and try to wear it away by piecemeal, as assailing one clause to-day and another to-morrow. To defeat this strategy the Republicans must have the courage to defend the whole tariff and to rebuke every attempt on a single clause of it.

'FRISCO'S RECREATION.

Our Correspondent Tells Where to Find It.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8, '72. ED. APPEAL:—San Franciscans are a peculiar pleasure seeking people all to themselves. In fact the same may be said of all the residents on the Bay.

When the weather here is even half way decent the population of different cities shifts around. Sunday last was exceptionally warm and bright, and as a consequence Oaklanders and Alamedians came over here in droves, while boat loads of picnickers and wheelmen went from here to Alameda and Oakland.

At the Golden Gate Park there were such crowds about the music stand and children's play ground that navigation was next to impossible, and every car going and coming was packed with a clinging cargo of humanity.

The boat that usually departs for Sausalito with a few stray passengers, on Sunday had standing room only. That is one of the prettiest trips that 'Friscoites indulge in, and the crowds that went that day enjoyed a sense of keenest pleasure. Although the boat moves rapidly the distance is sufficient to require a run of about 45 minutes, in which time the boat passes close to both Alcatraz and Angel Islands—interesting because of their naval importance.

The water is dotted everywhere with small boats, and the white sails of passing yachts, and occasionally a sloop or a schooner may sweep gracefully by with all her canvas set to catch the warm Spring breeze.

Sausalito itself is not much of a town. Two trains for Northern stations meet each boat and soon roll out, a dozen saloons catch a few perpetually thirsty travelers, and a few fine residences, usually owned by 'Frisco people, stand high up on the cliff, almost hidden in a wealth of foliage. Some of these have taken advantage of their eminence to imitate old feudal castles, with broad, arched gateways, tower, abutment and turret, which gives a most picturesque effect to the view.

Most of the excursionists who go there take their lunches and walk out through the town to the grass covered and oak shaded hills to the Southward. There is almost the seclusion and quiet of the woods about Lake Tahoe; wild flowers grow abundantly at every turn, the birds whistle in the trees and the zephyr stirs the oak leaves, and far down below in the shelter of rocky cliffs, the swell of the tide washes the shore as musically as ever wavelet did. Parties gather all along the shore as well as in the shade above, and while some are fishing or enjoying a boat ride the rest build a fire to boil some eggs or perhaps prepare the fish that are so readily caught.

So passes the day as pleasant as ever the balmyest Summer brought, and as the boat carries the throng away from the green, refreshing shore, many a wistful eye looks back to see the spot where they reclined on the turf or beach and sigh for another Sunday at Sausalito. M.

Grismer.

The comedy drama "The Burglar" will be produced at the Opera House on the 16 by the well know Grismer Davies company. Speaking of the play the Boston Herald says:

Everybody has seen Editha's Burglar, that sweet little sketch which Mr. Gus Thomas made out of Mrs. Burnett's story; and everybody knows that it is one of the daintiest and one of the most pathetic bits of dramatic work that he ever laughed at or cried over in all his theatre-going experience. It was therefore warrantable to expect that in amplifying the sketch of Editha and the burglar, and giving the whole chain of events of which the story was a bright link, Mr. Thomas would turn out even better than the advance sample. He does not disappoint us. The dialogue is bright and terse. The author shows ability of unusual quality, and the Burglar will be made a success.

Butter and Cheese.

H. H. Springmeyer has started a creamery of his own and finds by careful experiments in butter-making that he can produce an article equal to any produced on the coast. He furnishes his own milk and never hesitates to show visitors through his entire establishment from top to bottom, whenever they wish to investigate. It is the pure, unadulterated article and can't be beat anywhere. He has purchased a cheese plant and will be in shape to turn out a superior article inside of a week. Give Springmeyer a chance and he will improve Nevada in several ways.

St. Patrick's Masque Ball.

Costumes can be secured at the hall, and plenty of stable room is at hand for those attending in carriages. m6

Two bulls, a Holstein and a Jersey, are kept for the service of stock. A limited number of milch cows will be driven from and returned to the city daily. Season commences April 15th.
